News writing follows a basic formula. While styles can diverge more dramatically depending on the kind of story—a feature story may look and sound very different than a hard news story—all news stories are cut from the same mold. The first element of news writing is, of course, to deliver the news.

Tips for News Writing Generally speaking, the lede, or introduction to the story, should be a single sentence of 35 to 45 words that summarizes the main points of the story, not a seven-sentence monstrosity that looks like it's out of a Jane Austen novel. The lede should summarize the story from start to finish.

1. INVESTIGATE: Reading and Writing News Articles, Editorials, Editorial cartoons, and Op-Ed Commentaries. Writers of news articles are obligated to maintain journalistic integrity at all times. They are not supposed to take sides or show bias in written or verbal reporting. News articles follow an Inverted Pyramid format. The lead, or main points of the article—the who, what, when, where, why and how of a story—are placed at the top or beginning of the article.
